About Edgefield Medical Center OB Clinic

The Edgefield Medical Center OB Clinic is a branch of Self Regional Healthcare Family Medicine Residency Program, concentrated on pregnancy, childbirth and postpartum care. Whether you are already expecting a baby or hoping to become pregnant, our providers are here to help meet all your healthcare needs.

The Edgefield Medical Center OB Clinic offers a range of services designed to ensure the health and wellbeing of patients who are pregnant, patients with non-surgical gynecology complaints and those in need of contraception.

Patients of the clinic will be seen for their appointments at Edgefield Medical Center throughout and after their pregnancy, and will deliver at Self Regional Medical Center in Greenwood, SC, which follows a family-focused approach to obstetrical services. Families will enjoy our newly renovated, state-of-the-art birthing suites where labor, delivery and recovery time is spent in one comfortable space.
